Image taken:

Nov. 13, 2009

Location:

Vesper, NY, USA

Details:

The ISS made an early evening fly-by during the last official Public Viewing session for 2009 of the Syracuse Astronomical Society in Vesper, NY. The 6:36 p.m. EST fly-by made it as far as Alcor and Mizar before passing into Earth's shadow (the Big Dipper is just entering the tree line to our North). Details: Canon SD780 IS, 15" exposure, 400 ISO.
